

ProUT
(Progressive Utilisation Theory)
Prabhat Ranjan Sarkar

1. Based on spirituality
2. Outlook of Cosmic fraternity (Neohumanism)
3. Universality in constitutional structure (common philosophy of life, world language, common penal code)
4. Recognizes four classes of human psychology, and the succession of dominance of classes in the flow of the social cycle
5. Moral leadership
6. Political centralisation (world government)
7. Self-sufficient socio-economic zones
8. Economic decentralisation (local control and administration, block level planning)
9. Cooperatives (coordinated cooperation)
10. Socialisation of land (with agriculture the same status as industry)
11. Three-tiered industrial structure (with production for consumption, not profit)
12. Balanced economy
13. Maximum utilisation of all resources and potentialities
14. Rational distribution of all resources and wealth
15. Happy blending of individual liberty and collective responsibility (unity in diversity)
16. Minimum requirements of life guaranteed to all (through purchasing capacity)
17. Incentives for special merit and skills
18. Ever-increasing standard of living and collective wealth
19. Full local employment (combined with reduced work hours)
20. Socio-economic security (for those unable to work)
21. Appropriate science and technology (and under control of the moralists)
22. Environmental protection (integrated farming, security to all animals and plants)
23. Freedom in expression of language, culture, spiritual practice, art, literature, dress, media
24. Education free for all up to the highest level (based on morality, leading to spirituality, and not under political control)
25. Policies adjusting with circumstance and leading to social progress
26. Total response to trifarious human needs: physical, psychic and spiritual
27. Progressive utilization of all crude, subtle and causal potentialities of human and cosmic existence, and channelization of those potentialities into the spiritual flow
28. For the welfare and happiness of all